Car License Deadline Is Wednesday

With less than a week remaining to purchase license plates, the sales are moving rather slowly at the office of Turner-Nail Insurance Agency.

Tuesday, Wesley Nail who is in charge of the sales locally, said that 1,000 private automobile licenses had been sold and they expect to sell around 600 more before the deadline, Apr. 1.

About 300 commercial vehicle plates have been sold.

The sales are running about the same as last year and Mr. Nail said he hoped it will not be necessary to have people wait in lines to be served.

People are being urged to purchase their plates as soon as possible to avoid having lines next week.

Nail also suggested that considerable time could be saved by having the car title and the 1964 license receipt when applying for new license.

Agent Cautions To Watch for Rabid Animals

A Rabid skunk was found on the residence of Cal Britton near Anson this past week, according to County Agent, Kirby Clayton. The skunk's head was sent off by Dr. McMillian of Stamford and came back a positive case of rabies, says Clayton. The skunk was found in the stall with Britton's horse where the horse had killed it. The horse will remain under close observation, until a definite diagnosis can be made. Another case of rabies was reported north of Stamford by Dr. McMillian.

County Agent, Kirby Clayton cautions local residents to be on the lookout for rabid animals and to kill any suspected wild animals and take their heads to the Veterinarian for positive diagnosis. Domestic animal suspects should be reported to the Veterinarian, the County Trapper Charlie Myatt or County Agent Kirby Clayton. Charlie Myatt lives on Route 6, Abilene and his phone number is LI 84175 Hamby.

Drive Planned to Raise $1271 In County for Screwworm Fight

In response to an urgent request from the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation Charlie Myatt, Jones County Chairman for the Screwworm eradication program met with members of the committee Thursday morning to plan a drive to raise this County's emergency quota of $1271.

With the highly successful campaign to eradicate the screwworm through the release of sterile flies well over the hump, the foundation is in need of emergency funds to maintain the program until a new Federal appropriation is available, according to information received from Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Mission, Texas, president of the foundation.

In his letter to Myatt, Mr. Briscoe outlined the need as follows:

Contributions from producers, based on 10 cents per animal, of $300,000 to be supplemented by a state appropriation of $250,000 and a Federal contribution of $550,000.

These funds would be used to maintain the program, now being carried across the Rio Grande into Mexico, until June 30, after which an expected Federal appropriation would carry on until the job was completed, Myatt explained.

Jones County's quota was based on the latest figures on the livestock population indicating that the county has some 13,000 mother cows, a round 4,000 head of sheep and goats and approximately 1,000 head of swine.

Through the quota is based on volunteer suggested contributions from each farmer and rancher of 10 cents per head of livestock, Myatt said that "freewill" donations in larger sums would help to raise the sum in the short period of time allotted between now and April 5 when the first check will be sent to the foundation.

Success of the program thus far is indicated in the following figures posted at the meeting:

In 1962 the state had 50,000 reported screwworm cases. The next year after the eradication effort was begun the number dropped to 5,000 and last year only 223 cases were reported.

Only 12 counties in the state reported no infestation in 1962 and in 1963 there were 72 counties that were free of infestation.

Jones County had no reported case of screwworms last year, according to a report from County Agent, Kirby Clayton.

County committee members meeting with Myatt Thursday were Clyde Wright, Rt. 3, Anson; C. E. Newsom, Lueders; B. R. Vancil, Rt. 1, Merkel; H. A. Haynes, Rt. 6, Abilene; J. H. Doty, Rt. 2, Avoca; and Maxey Harvey, Rt. 6, Abilene.

Other members of the committee contacted, who are expected to assist with the fund drive are Guy Steen, Anson; Jack Morrow, Hawley; Berl Sauls, Hamlin; Gerald Proctor, Stamford; Carl Swenson, Stamford; Charles Stenholm, Avoca; and Newman West, Anson.

The following VA teachers are also expected to cooperate in the drive: J. F. Dozier, Anson; Charles Stenholm, Avoca; Weldon Holdbrook, Stamford; John Quinby, Lueders; Earnest Tate, Noodle; and T. C. Blankenship, Hamlin.

1964 Marked First Year for Traffic Fatalities to Exceed 3,000 in Texas

AUSTIN — Traffic fatalities in Texas exceeded the 3,000 mark for the first time in history during the 1964 calendar year.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported that the traffic death book for 1964 was closed at noon Monday, March 15, with a total of 3,006 fatalities on the streets and highways of Texas.

"The total for last year represents a 10 per cent increase over the 2,729 lives lost in 1963," Garrison said. "Coupled with this tragic loss of life is the staggering economic loss of almost $487 million."

Garrison reported that the DPS Statistical Services estimated that traffic accidents increased from 399,917 in 1963, to 454,762 during 1964. The number of miles driven in the state increased from 52.3 billion in 1963 to slightly over 55.6 billion last year.

The death rate (the number of fatalities for each 1000 million miles of travel) was 5.4 during 1964, compared to 5.2 during 1963. The figure was the highest death rate since 1957, when it reached 6.0.

"Each month throughout the year," Garrison stated, "more than 200 fatalities were reported to the DPS. For six of the months, the total exceeded 250 deaths per month."

"We are well into the 1965 driving year, and statistics indicate that fatalities are far ahead of last year's tragic record. Unless each driver accepts the responsibility of operating a motor vehicle properly, we can only look forward to an even greater total of death and suffering for the present year."

Garrison said that acceptance of responsibility and the resolution on the part of each driver to follow the rules of safety could aid materially in reducing tragedy during 1965 and the years to come.

High School Students to Attend Atomic Energy Symposium April 2

Outstanding high school students from the Abilene area will attend a symposium on atomic energy featuring some of the nation's leading scientists to be held April 2 on the Hardin-Simmons University campus.

The all day conference will be sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company and Hardin-Simmons.

It is the hope of WTU that this program will not only prove to be extremely informative to the high school students but will also be an inspiration to those students who may be considering science as a career.

The program has been arranged by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation of which WTU is a member. The Foundation, which is composed of 10 investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas, is engaged in a program of nuclear fusion research with the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation seeking to harness the energy process of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful purposes, including the generation of electric power.

An outstanding nuclear scientist, Dr. Martin Stern, will appear on the program. He is from General Atomic's John Jay Hopkins Laboratory in San Diego, California where the fusion research is being carried out.

Other speakers at the conference will include Dr. W. T. Guy, Chairman of the department of math at the University of Texas; Dr. B. H. Amstead, Associate Dean, College of Engineering at the University of Texas; Dr. Harold P. Hanson, Chairman of the department of Physics at the University of Texas; and Howard R. Drew, Executive Vice President for the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

Another Enrollment Period Set For 'Texas '65' Insurance Program

Texas citizens 65 years of age and over will have an opportunity to again purchase Texas 65 Health Insurance during the last two weeks of April, according to an announcement by H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association.

Texas 65 was organized in 1963 by 64 of the leading insurance companies in the state to offer low cost health coverage to senior citizens of Texas who had previously been unable to purchase health insurance because of age or physical condition.

The program is available only during open enrollment periods to any Texas resident 65 years of age and over, regardless of physical condition, and without the necessity of completing a lengthy medical questionnaire.

Husbands and wives of those past 65 who purchase the insurance may also qualify for Texas 65 though they have not attained the age of 65. Coverage may also be purchased by sons and daughters in behalf of parents or relatives without the necessity of the insured's signature.

"That Texas 65 is filling the need we hoped it would be evidenced by the fact that over $4 million dollars has been paid in claims by the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association since the program was started on November 1, 1963," Rietz stated.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Most hunted animal in Texas. For two months hunters will take this animal any way they can — with lights, dogs or traps. Afterwards, the fur will wind up on some woman's back in the form of a beautiful coat.

Only fur-bearing animal left in Texas that commands a worthwhile price on the market is the ringtail. In recent years the pelts have held steady at about $1.25 each for the better ones.

Many Texans never have seen a ringtail. This diminutive creature spends most of its life in the dark. It beds down in a den during the day. And it will not venture into the open until well after dusk.

Then, unlike most nocturnal prowlers, it retires before daylight arrives. Only on very rare occasions will you see a ringtail during the daylight hours.

Although the ringtail ranges over much of the dry Western half of the United States, the biggest population is found right here in Texas.

There are more ringtails in the Edwards Plateau of Central Texas than any other comparable region.

This animal is mistakenly called the ring-tailed cat. But, it isn't a member of the cat family. It's a carnivore closely kin to the common raccoon.

Average ringtail is about 20 inches long, including tail and weighs between two and three pounds.

Its tail and round eyes which appear much too large for its meek-looking face are the ringtail's most notable characteristics. The tail has alternating black and white rings, hence the name ringtail.

In all, there will be 14 to 16 rings which don't quite come together on the underside of the tail. Overall coloration is a tan-ash or grayish hue. Its tell-tale eyes glow brightly when caught in the beam of a headlamp or flashlight.

Despite the fact that thousands of ringtails are killed each year it is remarkable how little is known about this animal.

"There just isn't much available information on the ringtail," says Al Springs, coordinator for Wildlife restoration with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. "We've run a study on its food habits, but other than that I can't tell you too much about it. Frankly, I doubt whether a majority of Texans even know it exists."

A dietary analysis made of more than 100 ringtails revealed that about one-fourth of its total intake is composed of tiny mammals like mice and rats, including carrion.

Otherwise, it feeds upon fruits of native plants, birds, snakes, lizards and various insects like spiders, scorpions and centipedes. Believe it or not, one of its favorite foods is the common mistletoe which grows in mesquite trees.

It isn't unusual to have a ringtail answer a predator call. But considering this diet composition, it sort of makes a person wonder what motivation could possibly prompt the animal to be attracted by the light through the treetops, searching for the glow of eyes.

Many ringtails also are trapped by packs seeking the animal.

Usually ringtails live along rocky ledges where they den in crevices.

Female hatch their young in the spring and average between two and four offspring. Young ringtails are almost helpless at birth and don't open their eyes until 31 to 34 days later. At about four months they have the same overall look of adults. But, of course, they are smaller in size.

One reason the ringtail isn't better known is because very few exist in captivity. Unlike coons and other similar animals, the ringtail doesn't show up around farm houses as pets. Seldom are they caught when young. This because the young rarely venture out until they are grown. Also the very nature of the ringtail's living habits, in the narrow and confining rock crevices, make the young difficult to capture alive.

It isn't unusual for several adult ringtails to den together. But when you find them out prowling at night they almost invariably will be traveling.

Most hunters seek them simply by walking slowly through the woods, swinging a bright

Abilene Woman Reviews Book for Guest Day Tea

Mrs. Alton J. Willingham of Abilene reviewed "Washington Wife" - a Journal by Ellen Maury Slayden for members of the Women's Literary Club and their guests at the annual guest day tea held Friday in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Guests were served in the parlor from a table covered with a white cutwork cloth, centered with an arrangement of yellow mums and wedge-wood daffodils. Crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Holly Toler served.

Members of the refreshment committee were Meses. A. B. Carlton, C. F. Cook and C. T. Murrell.

KEEPING UP TO DATE...

DELAYED CURE

The term "delayed cure" may sound like a health fad, but it actually refers to a new textile process which represents happy news from the family wardrobe.

Wash-wears finished by this technique have an exceptional ability to retain their shape during wear and after laundering, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, home demonstration agent for Jones County.

Durable creases and pleats can be set in to last the life of the garment, even after repeated washing.

Slacks, trousers and work pants were the first cotton garments to be made by this new process. Sport shirts, blouses and dresses are expected on the market this spring, and all-cotton suits are now being developed for men. At present, most of the fabrics used are a blend of cotton with either nylon or polyester fiber.

The finish requires two steps, says Mrs. Newberry. First, the fabric is treated with thermosetting resin and goes to the manufacturer to be made into garments - including sharp creases or pleats, if desired.

Then the finished garments are placed in a high-temperature oven to "cure" the finish. This permanently sets the shape of the entire garment. It also reduces the problem of subsequent seamucker and eliminates the need for touch-up ironing.

Certain wools are also being treated by a chemical process with a delayed setting similar to that used for cottons and nylon blends. Creases or pleats are made in finished woolen garments, and the setting takes place in a subsequent step again assuring the durable sharpness so important to a pleated fashion.

LEATHER LININGS INSURE COMFORT

Here's an inside tip for shoe shoppers. Consider new spring shoes with a leather lining for comfort and long-lasting fashion.

Leather linings in shoes are making a tremendous comeback this year - and for a good reason, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent.

The "breathing" leather linings keep feet dry and cool and leather lining guards the foot from chafing and the irritation of burning feet. The leather lining adds body to the shoe without weight - in the pump, spectator and sling back designs. The lining helps the shoe hold its shape longer.

In many spring fashions of pumps, spectators and town walking shoes, the leather lining is actually two pieces. The forward section is smooth and dainty, and the back is napped for a no-slip hold on the foot. This design gives the wearer the feeling of luxury and a sure-footed walk.

Imaginative shoe designers are using leather linings to help set off the beauty of their shoes this spring. Many shoes have colored or tinted leather linings to match or contrast with the shoe upper leather color. In others, a smooth leather lining is used to set off a suede leather or brushed leather upper.

Homemakers who are planning to paper a room this spring may be doing some fancy figuring to determine how much to buy.

This information from Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones Co. Home Dem. Agent can help persons figure the need for a given room.

A single roll of wall paper covers 36 square feet, and a double roll, 72.

Figure the area of each wall - the height times the width - and add these together. Subtract the area of each window and door opening. Multiply by 1.1 - to take care of waste and matching.

You now have the area to be covered. So divide by 72 or 36, depending on which size roll you wish to buy - single or double.

Agent Offers Aid In Determining Plant Diseases

Ornamental plants have many diseases. Symptoms may appear on the foliage, stems, fruit or roots of a plant. Because the organisms responsible for the trouble are very small, diagnosis may be difficult, explains County Agent Kirby Clayton.

In fact, he added, the casual organisms can be seen only with the aid of a microscope. Since most home owners usually do not have a microscope available, symptoms must be relied upon for identification of the disease.

Clayton added that he has available at his office, publications which could help make the identification job much easier. He listed MP-512, "Identifying Plant Diseases," as one of the most valuable but added he also has other material which home owners should find very useful.

After studying the plant disease material, home owners who have trouble identifying disease symptoms are advised to give the county agent a call or visit. If he has not had experience with the disease, he may suggest sending a specimen to the Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas

Mmes. L. H. McBride, Richard Young Jr., and A. A. Hackley.

Mrs. Willingham was introduced by Mrs. Donley Williams, club president, who also welcomed guests.

The book, which was published only two years ago, 40 years after the author's death, was a journal of happenings in Washington while Mrs. Slayden's husband, James Luther Sladen, was a representative from the San Antonio District.

The book covers the time from 1897 to 1919 and has a modern sound with death of a president, demonstrations for causes, rights for women, at this time the right to vote, and marche for causes which were called hikes.

Nosey Neighbor...

This past week has been an eventful one as the two-man Gemini space vehicle made three successful orbits around the earth Tuesday and then Wednesday via television, we were able to see pictures of the moon. History is being made everyday as scientists move forward in the field of space.

The weather has had trouble making up its mind and it looks like we are just now having some winter. The first day of spring is behind us on the calendar but so far we are still looking for it. We had some snowflakes last Friday but no moisture was realized.

Three of the Leroy Pritchard children are back in school after having the mumps, in fact, they were able to be in school the day the paper was out last week Rhonda, the first one to take them is still at home.

The number of mouths to feed at the Bobby Kiser home was increased by nine last week when their dog had nine puppies. In a few weeks, they will probably be looking for some "nice home" for the puppies.

The Don Elmore have a filly colt that arrived while they were out of town over the weekend. Another, an Appaloosa horse colt, also arrived this week, belonging to Ed Branscum. Those in the know say it has good markings, a white blanket on its hips, (whatever that means). In case you have not noticed, I am not too well up on my horse terminology and am depending on others to help me out.

Speaking of being helped, I do hope that everyone will remember to call in news items and interesting happenings. Sometimes the "grapevine" news gets a little thin.

We have been asked if there is a charge for a news item being placed in the Herald so I would like to mention here that there is no charge for news.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Hodnett and Mrs. H. C. Hodnett were in Denton last week end visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hodnett and baby, Vickie.

Past Week End Very Eventful For Hamlin High Students

by Nancy Ford
Carolyn Reynolds
Marolyn Reynolds

The weekend of March 20 proved very eventful for many Hamlin High School students. With three different activities taking place, high honors were achieved in every event. Jan Albritton, a Junior student, was selected by merit to be in the FHA all-state choir which will sing at the state FHA meeting, David Drummond, a Senior student, won the mile run at the Coleman track meet with a time of 4 minutes and 39.5 seconds. Eight band members won first divisions on first class solos and ensembles which permits them to go to All-State Solos and Ensemble Contest held in Austin the first part of the summer. They are: Reba Jackson, freshman-alto saxophone solo; Randy Morgan, freshman bass horn solo; Carolyn Reynolds, senior - alto saxophone solo; Jackie Townley, senior - clarinet solo; Sharon Townley, eighth grader - clarinet solo; and Gary Cauble senior, Randy Smith, sophomore, and Dennis Weaver, sophomore - trombone tria.

Other Division 1 ratings were Peggy Jones, clarinet; James Knable, cornet; Dianna Crowley, cornet; Gary Carson, cornet; C. A. Jenkins, bass horn; Chris Perrin, snare drum; Billy Browning, Jana Ferguson and Dianna Crowley, cornet trio; Jane Hymer, Chris Perrin, Mike Owen, Linda Nichols and Terese Perrin, drum quintet.

Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20, were big days for Area IV F. H. A. ers. The annual area meeting was held in Stephenville. Eight girls and two sponsors left Friday to attend the meeting. Judy Jenkins entered talent night doing an impersonation entitled "Killer Diller". Mary Lois Patterson and Jan Albritton tried out for the State FHA Choir. Nancy Ford and Mary Lois Patterson were recognized for state achievements.

The Track Team traveled to Coleman Saturday, March 20, to compete against other area teams in track and field events.

Members of the Piper Band and the Junior High Band went to Brownwood Saturday March 20. Out of a number of seventy students participating, twenty-two students (14 events) won first division medals. The medals-bronze for a third-class solo, silver for a second-class solo, and gold for a first-class solo are highly treasured by everyone who received them.

Hamlin High School will present a program of entertainment for the people of Hamlin tonight, Thursday, March 25. Under the direction of Mrs. Charles Scott, Spanish Club sponsor, the One-Act play, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos", will also be presented. Admission is twenty-five cents.

The theme this week for the National Honor Society's "Spring Cleaning '65" is Brush Up on Your Studies". A bulletin board was made by each NHS member in order to promote better study habits and scholarship among the students of Hamlin High School.

The man who does not read good books has no advantage over the one who cannot read them.

Dr. Ted Crager, band director at Texas Women's University, spent Tuesday, March 23, in clinic with the junior high band and the high school Piper Band. Members of both bands learned a great deal from the well-known musician. The clinic was held in order that the bands might be better prepared for the UIL concert and sight-reading contest to be held in Snyder April 9 and 10.

Neinda Philosopher Figures Problem With Viet Nam Is Maybe It Has Too Many People Like Him

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 takes another look at the Viet Nam situation this week. It's not clear what he sees.
Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, the American newspaper reporters in Viet Nam are complaining because the U. S. government won't let them move around freely in the country to report the news.

"Without freedom to report the news, the American public will not get a true picture of what's happening in Viet Nam," the reporters complained.

Now I'm not in favor of censorship, outside maybe of reporting what this Johnson grass farm made last year, but I'm afraid that if the reporters in Viet Nam think the only reason we don't have a clear picture of what's happening over there is that they aren't allowed to report it, they aren't taking a very practical view of the matter.

However, if one single reporter knows what's taking place, we ought to buy him a ticket home and let him tell us. I have a notion President Johnson himself would buy the ticket if he thought he could get the complete dope.

Moreover, I have an idea the Viet Nam people themselves would like to find out what's happening.

And even if we knew everything that's taking place over there, I'm afraid we still couldn't make heads or tails of it.

It may be that there are too many people in Viet Nam about like me. Regardless of how many experts come out here and tell me how I can make this Johnson grass farm pay more and give me a richer and fuller life, and regardless of how right they are and how sound their advice is, I just never do get around to doing much about it.

On the other hand, if I had 200 million hungry Chinese starving under a dictator and clamoring to break through my sagging fences, I might be hollering for all the help I could get.

Don't ask me the answers to such problems. Don't even ask me who to ask. In fact, if some of those reporters know what's happening in Viet Nam, why doesn't Congress subpoena them at once to come home and testify, so it can get in on it too?
Yours faithfully
J. A.

As It Looks From Here . . .

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Bob Bartlett of Alaska recently stated on the Senate Floor that doctors had found a high percentage of toxic poisons in the bodies of Eskimos. The theory is that some migrating fish from the United States and Canada are supposed to account for a part of it. The remainder has been accumulated from caribou and reindeer meat, but certainly neither has been down in this part of the country. It was determined that they fed on perennial grasses which, unlike seasonal grasses, had collected a large amount of pesticide fallout. Since no pesticides have been used within hundreds, and probably thousands of miles, the theory is that, like radiation fallout, residual poisons from pesticides can, in one way or another, travel vast distances.

IN 1961, THIS COLUMN QUOTED Dr. Clarence Cottam, Director of the Welder Wildlife Foundation at Sinton, Texas, who said, "When a man in his frenzy to make a quick dollar depletes the productive soil, encourages its erosion or adds poisons to it that, directly or indirectly, endanger plant and animal life, he is jeopardizing his own security and future."

THE FOUR BASIC INGREDIENTS FOR LIFE ON EARTH are soil, water, air and sunshine. Life is curtailed or handicapped to the extent that any of these requirements are made unuseable or unavailable.

PESTICIDES, WHEN USED WISELY AND SKILLFULLY under responsible

IMPROPERLY AND EXTRAVAGANTLY USED, they are doing much unnecessary damage to wildlife and to human health.

RACHEL CARSON WROTE HER BOOK, "SILENT SPRING," in 1962, but it was obvious a long time ago that the problem of pesticides and insecticides was bound to mount and grow before adequate answers were found.

AGAIN IN 1961, THIS COLUMN POINTED TO THE NEED for research on direct and indirect effects of residual poisons to humans and wildlife for these reasons:

1. Some medical authorities believe cancer and blood diseases, as well as serious nutritional disorders are related to chemical poisons and their carriers.
2. Highly toxic and long lasting pesticides cause numerous deaths of birds, mammals, fish and other organisms beneficial to human life. Tests strongly indicate some of these chemicals reduce natural reproductive rates in birds and animals and weaken them to the point where they fall victim to predators and disease.
3. Poisons washing from fields into streams and lakes not only kill fish, birds and mammals but threaten to contaminate surface and subsurface public water supplies.

4. Residues of poisons build up or accumulate in tissues and can be transmitted to man through the consumption of domestic meat products and wild game as well as milk and raw vegetables.

5. A rapidly increasing list of pests are developing immunity to some chemicals, requiring larger and larger dosages, which creates additional hazards.

RATHER EXHAUSTIVE STUDIES ALREADY SHOW:

1. Minimum dosages required to control pests should not be exceeded.
2. More emphasis be placed on the development of selective chemical pesticides which will control specific pests without damage to valuable resources.
3. It is important that emphasis be given to biological control methods. As an example, the sterilization of the male fly by radioactive cobalt has proved successful in the control of screwworm.

AS WAS POINTED OUT IN THIS NEWSLETTER IN 1961, "The use of poisonous chemicals will become a more

These points qualify performance horses to the World's Championship Appaloosa Performance Show. Twenty-one trophies are planned in the halter and Junior classes. Thirteen trophies are planned for the performance class.

The West Texas Appaloosa Horse Club, headquarters in Midland, will award a door prize to those attending the show. That prize will be a year old Appaloosa colt registered as "Captain Bud."

Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

No matter how you look at it, this car makes a lot of sense.

If you're interested in value (and who isn't), the eleven features above give you a good idea why more intermediate-size car buyers are thinking Chevelle.

If you're looking for a wide power choice, Chevelle starts out with a standard 120-hp Six, an ideal city performer. After that you may order from a variety of engines that turn it into an even greater highway performer.

Room? Large door openings. Wide curved side windows for extra shoulder room. Great front and rear leg room. Those four, five or six passengers have it made. And so do you. Chevelle may seat like a big car but it handles like a smaller car.

Comfort? Thick wall-to-wall carpeting in Malibu models. Foam-cushioned seats. Easy-to-read instrument panel. The whole interior looks like those in cars costing far more.

Come on down to our showroom and take a drive soon. Chevelle begins to make even more sense after you've gone a couple of miles.

OLD GLORY...

By Judy White
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pritchard, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Wright and Jerry Johnston, gave a barbecue supper for the Old Glory High School basketball teams on Tuesday night of last week.

The group played various games and watched television. D. William Kemp of Haskell and his assistant, Mrs. Opal Smith, conducted a dental check for Old Glory students here at the school on Tuesday, Mar. 16.

Stephanie Letz assisted them in making the records.

Dr. Kemp has conducted similar projects several times in the past and this service is appreciated by the students and their parents.

Linda Gholson and Judy White attended the Hardin-Simmons University Speech Tournament in Abilene last Friday and Saturday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Klump, Mrs. Bernice White and Danny Lamert on Friday. Mrs. White accompanied them on Saturday.

About 500 high schoolers from 37 schools were competing in the tournament. Linda competed in the Poetry Reading Division and Judy in Extemporaneous Speaking.

Mrs. Bernice D. White hosted a fashion party in her home on Tuesday of last week. Several guests attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Matthews of Painesville, Ohio, are the parents of a daughter, Jennie Lynn, who was born Feb. 22. She weighed 7 pounds and 5 ounces.

They are former residents of Old Glory where she taught grades 3 and 4. He was minister of the Old Glory Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vanderworth and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Vanderworth were in Bellville recently where they attended the funeral of Mr. Vanderworth's niece.

a story that swings the gamut from cinematic mirth to a bedrock search for spiritual and scientific truth.

The two boys visit the head of a university biology department, a professed evolutionist who none-the-less carefully documents problems he faces in seeking to trace species-to-species development. The biologist then introduces Jim and Toby to one of his junior instructors, a man who has given considerable study to the Bible and science. Through the aid of these two educators, the boys come to an invigorating respect for both science and the Bible.

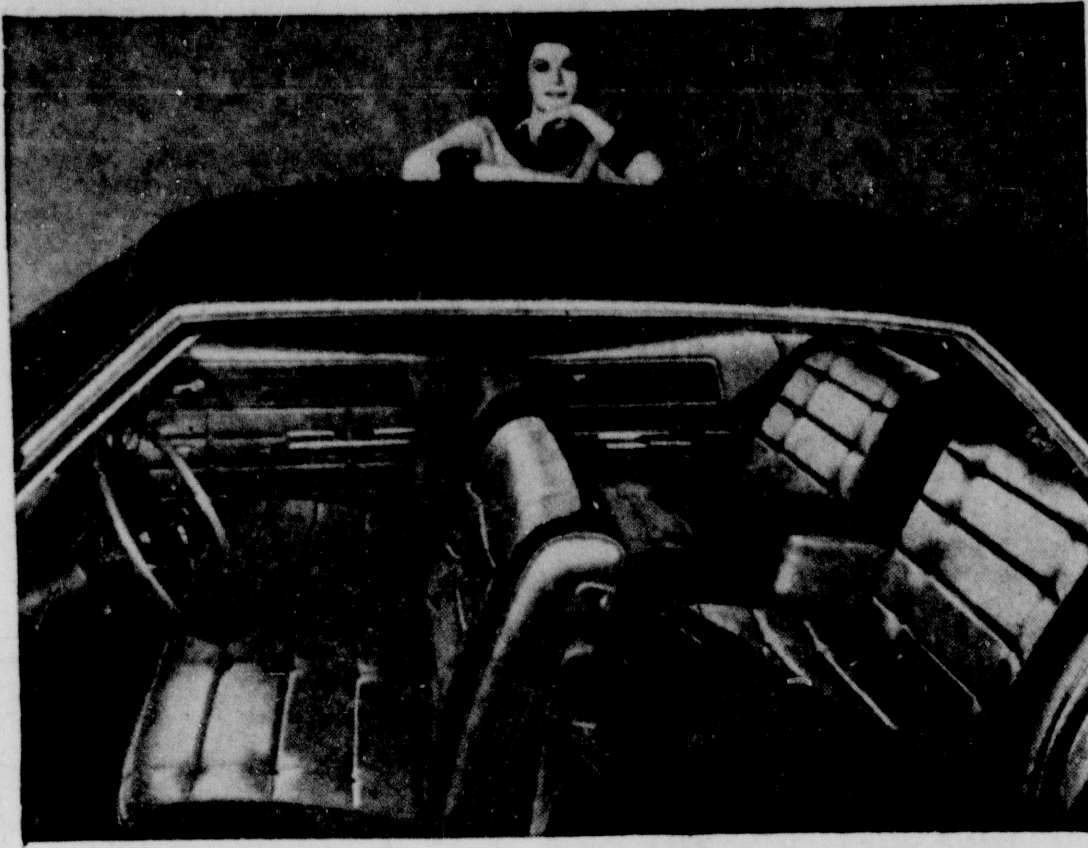

"MONKEY BUSINESS" is a Youth Films release. Youth Films, with headquarters at Muskegon, Michigan, also produced "TEENAGE ROCK", "SEVENTEEN" and "GOING STEADY". Each of these films is available without charge for showing in high schools throughout North America.

Newest in luxury cars is Chevrolet's Caprice Custom Sedan

The newest Chevrolet-built passenger car, making its bow this week at the Chicago Auto Show, is the Caprice Custom Sedan. The Caprice is a luxury-type car featuring a plush interior with rear-seat folding armrest, distinctive courtesy lights and a noticeable hushed ride accomplished by new chassis improvements. A color-keyed paint stripe and special nameplates and emblems distinguish the exterior of the Caprice. The new luxury car will soon be in Chevrolet dealer showrooms across the nation.

LEARN HUNTER'S CALL FOR HELP

AUSTIN, Tex. — The Texas Safety Association urges all hunters to learn the hunter's signal for help. Fire three shots at evenly spaced intervals, repeating several minutes apart. If you fail to get a response, wait until the sun sets. Your shots after sundown will attract the nearest game warden. Light a small fire and stay put until he arrives.

Spaniards revolutionized the economy of the American Plains Indians by introduction of the horse. They could round up buffalo herds and travel great distances with the new steeds. It changed them from an agricultural life to that of the hunter.

Foursquare Church to Show Film Saturday

A serious-minded high school student's search for facts and fallacies relative to the alleged incompatibility of the Bible and modern science forms the backdrop for a sparkling motion picture drama to be shown at the Hamlin Foursquare Church, Saturday March 27, at 7:00 p. m., according to information received from Rev. John Waldren, of Abilene Divisional Youth Director, sponsor of the showing here.

The showing is in connection with the Youth Rally which young people of the Wichita Valley Division will be attending.

Entitled "MONKEY BUSINESS", the fifty-minute color film traces the adventures of a teen-ager named Jim and his impetuous friend Toby. "Face it," Toby says, "monkeys are an awful lot like people." To which Jim counters, "I believe God created monkeys to be monkeys, just as he created people to be people." From these two viewpoints springs

EXTERIOR LIGHTING OF THE ALAMO will turn "night into day" at the Cradle of Texas Liberty in downtown San Antonio. A General Electric lighting system, donated by the Company, will provide illumination of the Alamo Chapel. Spot lighting will be directed at the Cenotaph, a memorial to the 187 men who died in the defense of liberty. The lighting, which will create an effect comparable to that shown in this artist's rendering, is expected to be installed within 90 days.

Amount of Light Said to Effect Degree of Marbling in Beef

COLLEGE STATION. — The amount of light to which beef cattle are exposed prior to slaughter appears to have a significant influence on the degree of marbling in the carcass, says Dr. Jan C. Bonsma, visiting professor of Texas A&M University.

Dr. Bonsma, a famed animal scientist and head of the Department of Animal Science at the University of Pretoria, Republic of South Africa, came to this conclusion as the result of experiments conducted with two-year old Hereford steers in his native country. "I kept 14 animals in total darkness for a period of 2 1/2 months before slaughter," says Dr. Bonsma. "Fourteen other steers were kept under normal light conditions and another 14 were subjected to more light than they would normally receive."

The effects of the light were clearly visible when the cuts were graded by a meat specialist after slaughter.

"The meat from those steers kept in total darkness had a higher percentage of marbling than the meat from the others."

The calves with highly marbled cuts were kept in barns most of the time. They were occasionally put in a small pen outside at night to exercise. "There was no fly problem. The calves were calmer than under ordinary circumstances," Dr. Bonsma said.

The calves kept in darkness had much longer hair growth and had a lower gonadotropin

Farm Management Specialist Says Farmers Need More System

AMARILLO. — Farmers need a system of operations to maximize returns on their places, says James Murphrey, Panhandle area farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Murphrey says too many farmers jump from one enterprise to another instead of having a definite system. A plan can help the farmer hone his operation into a stable, money making operation, he says.

"The tendency to plunge in content in the blood. The feed conversion ratio was about the same, said Dr. Bonsma.

Dr. Bonsma was brought to Texas A&M for one year by a Wortham Foundation grant.

and then jump out of different farm enterprises in one of the main faults of big farmers here in the Panhandle," Murphrey says.

According to Murphrey, farmers are more successful when they have a definite system of operation.

A system has many advantages, he says. It stabilizes credit needs, buying and selling channels, and time of income. More important, a system gives a farmer a chance to work on the efficiency of an enterprise.

"For example, when a man has wheat pasture," Murphrey said, "he shouldn't lease it one year, buy steers for it the next year and run cows on it the third year."

"Instead, he should pick one

Herald to Run Youth's Pictures

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world our nation and community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publisher of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work will be here Saturday.

Pictures will be taken at the White Plaza Hotel from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want.

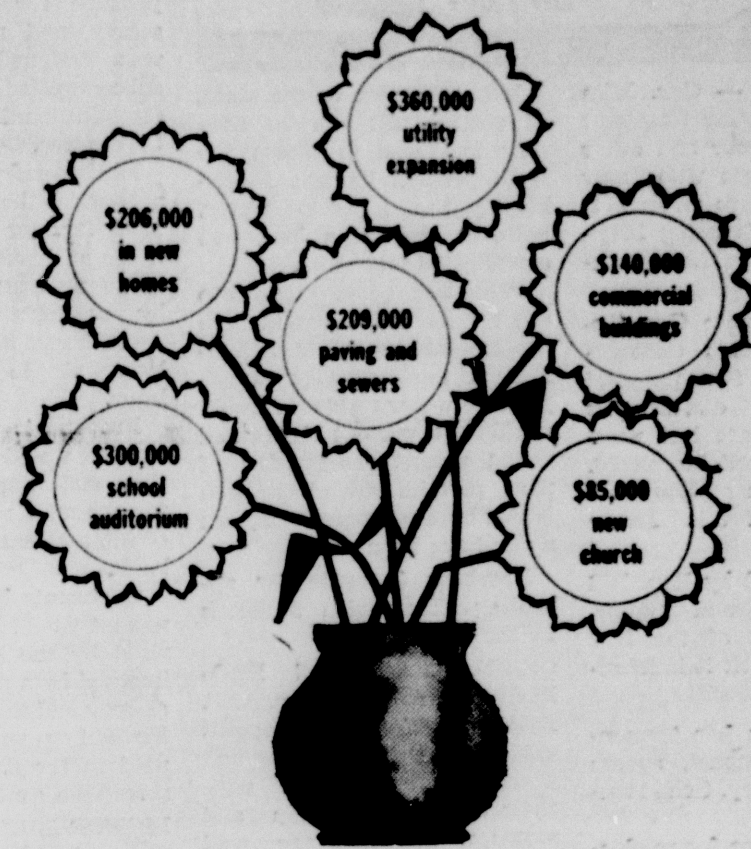

Appointments may be had by calling Mrs. Boyd Gibson, 4-1846.

system and stick with it. If he stayed with cows or bought steers each year," Murphrey said, "he'd gradually learn the best way to handle them for maximum returns. He'd become manager rather than gambler."

The management specialist says erratic weather, unstable livestock prices and influences from changing government programs effect the in-and-out characteristics of Panhandle farmers.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. John Connally's push for four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials who now are limited to two years between elections is being bottled up in a balky House committee.

While the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee advanced the proposal with minimum dissent, its House counterpart has postponed action until March 30. Rep. John Allen of Longview is chairman of this House Committee.

Opponents, led by Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, made no secret of the fact they hope to block it indefinitely.

The resolution has tremendous political impact, agrees House sponsor Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine.

If Connally runs for re-election, as many feel he will, a four-year term would place him only at the mid-point of his third term when the national elections roll around in 1968. He thus would be free to concentrate his efforts on helping old friend President Lyndon B. Johnson in his expected bid for another four years in the White House.

Opponents offer a variety of reasons for their stand. Some say they don't want the governor in a position to take a hand in legislative races during his "off" year. Others claim they have no objection to the governor's having a four-year term, but don't want to extend the benefit to other statewide officials now limited to two years. Still others believe officials should be answerable to the voters often.

Proponents argue just as convincingly that most states already allow four-year terms to their chief executives, and that longer terms would give officials more time to concentrate on their duties without pressure of frequent political campaigns.

Odds are that the governor eventually will find a way to get a floor vote on the proposed amendment to the constitution before session's end. Then, assuming the necessary two-thirds of lawmakers approve, it will be up to the voters to judge the issues raised. WATER BILL — Most important piece of water legislation to come before the current session was introduced in the deadline rush.

Bill by Rep. Raleigh Brown of Abilene lays out a way for Texas to find out how much water it has in its streams and who can use it.

Water belongs to the state, of course, and can be used only by those to whom the state permits its use. Establishing the right to water, however, can be a long and complicated procedure.

Procedure could tie into other bills which would give the present Texas Water Commission the authority to adjudicate water rights. It would not disturb present rights and would permit cancellation of many permits which have been issued by the Commission, but never have been used.

Provision is made for appealing Commission decisions to the courts.

CITRUS LABELING PROPOSED — A bill by Rep. A. C. Atwood of Edinburg proposes that all imported oranges and grapefruits be labeled with their country of origin and stores where they are sold display a sign reading "Imported Fresh Citrus Fruit Sold Here."

Bill also would require identification as "Cold Storage" of any place where products are stored under refrigeration for more than 60 days after harvest or initial refrigeration.

BIGGER SENATE? — Many state senators, looking for a painless way out of legislative redistricting, may have found it in the proposed constitutional amendment to increase their membership.

Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee unanimously approved a resolution to add eight new senatorial districts to the present 31. It also calls for six-year terms for senators, who now serve four-year terms.

Some senators think an early statewide election should be called on the measure and a 39-district reapportionment bill passed in advance to meet the August deadline for redrawing lines on an equal-population basis.

Ranking House members have indicated they have no objection. Big-city legislators point out that the bigger senate would insure metropolitan areas with multiple representation in the upper chamber. It also would give incumbent senators from sparsely-populated districts a fighting chance to hold on to their seats.

BUDGET COFFERERS NAMED — Joint Conference Committee which will write the final version of the 1966-67 state spending bill already is at work.

Senate conferees are Sens. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, A. M. Aikin of Paris, Bill Moore of Bryan, Martin Dies

Jr. of Lufkin and J. P. Word of Meridian.

House conferees are Reps. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, Gus Mutscher of Brenham, Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Richard Slack of Pecos.

FARMER SELF-ASSESSMENT — A bill by Rep. Felix McDonald of Edinburg to authorize agricultural producers to assess themselves up to one per cent the value of their produce for advertising, research and marketing funds was assigned to study by a subcommittee of the House Constitutional Amendments Committee.

Bill provides that if voters authorize the amendment in 1966, farmers within specified areas still would have to vote the assessment on themselves by at least a 2-to-1 vote. Amendment could be canceled by a simple majority vote later.

Proponents say the assessments would be much less than authorized and that any farmer who requested refund of his assessment would get it back.

Opponents believe the assessment would be a tax authorized by the Legislature, but imposed by a non-governmental body and that the money, as the bill is written, could be used to the detriment of farmers who contributed it.

LIQUOR BILL KILLED — Senate Jurisprudence Committee unceremoniously killed the bill to permit restaurant sale of liquor in small bottles with meals.

Unexpectedly-firm action of the committee assured no liquor-by-the-drink or open-saloons bill will be passed this session.

Sen. Jim Bate of Edinburg sponsored the unsuccessful small-bottles bill which met opposition from liquor stores as well as dries. Bill was backed by the Texas Restaurant Association.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio says he will continue to push for hearing of his open saloons bill but admits it has little chance.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Governor Connally has completed a long list of appointments.

He reassigned Chester C. Wine of Corpus Christi and Claude W. Brown of McCamey to Texas Industrial Commission and named L. F. Bay of Brownwood to replace E. B. Germany of Dallas.

Reappointed to State Seed and Plant Board were Garwood Gerdes of Giddings, Heino Staffel Jr. of Austin, C. B. Godbey of College Station and Dr. A. W. Young of Lubbock. New appointments went to B. Raymond Evans of Tulia and Grady C. Clark Jr. of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Nancy Lee Bass of Fort Worth was named to the State Board of Mansion Supervisors.

Mrs. Joyce Herd of Dallas was reappointed to the State Board of Tuberculosis Nurse Examiners.

Reappointed to the Advisory Council were James P. Mc-

God's Purposes

If you were having a picnic at the lake at approximately this spot, you might say, "Well, why did the engineers leave those trees in the water when they made this lake? They create such an eyesore. I can see no purpose in it." Yet, fishermen tell us that the fish love those old tree stumps and roots and that you can almost always find fish swimming in the dark recesses around and between these trees.

So many times we question God's wisdom in allowing some things to be and other things to come to pass. But God is good and his purposes are wise. The very thing that seems useless to us, might make us marvel if we could see with Heaven's eyes.

As Isaiah reminds us, "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

But he also wants us to know that his thoughts are many toward us and that everything works toward our good and our salvation. If we had no conflicts, and no questions, we would never have the opportunity to step out on faith.

Come to church Sunday and learn of God, his purposes, and the unsearchable riches of his love.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

NEW BRILLIANCE FOR THE STUDENT

... With the TENSOR STUDENT LAMP, a rugged, all-metal high-intensity lamp designed specifically for student use. This mite-sized lamp weighs only 2 pounds, takes up less than six square inches on a crowded desk, yet produces a powerful, glare-free light of sun-like brilliance.

Key to its amazing performance is the Tensor-engineered transformer that steps down the voltage of a standard AC socket, steps up light intensity to the equivalent of a 100-watt conventional desk lamp.

The Tensor Student Lamp provides the perfect light for reading, for desk use at home or in the dormitory, for library work, for microscope illumination, for drafting, for dissecting, for specimen study, for model construction. It makes those last-minute cram sessions a lot easier on the eyes, too.

The lamp's flexible gooseneck arm and swivel reflector let you direct the light precisely where you want it. Yet it's practically tip-proof, thanks to its weighted base. It's good looking, too, with its neutral gray wrinkle finish and chrome gooseneck.

So brighten things for the student prince (or princess) in your family by getting him a Tensor Student Lamp. You'll find it encourages good reading and study habits. Warning: if there are more than one student in your household, better get a Tensor Student Lamp for each. People become very attached to their Tensors, don't surrender them easily.

Connally's reappointments as presiding judges of administrative judicial districts include Judges Max Rogers of Huntsville, D. B. Wood of Georgetown, Solomon Casseb Jr. of San Antonio, Fidenio M. Guerra of McAllen, Roger Thurmond of Del Rio, Louis T. Holland of Montague, and Victor H. Lindsey of Lubbock.

"OPEN MEETINGS" CHANCES DIM — Legislation to restrict secret sessions of government agencies again is in trouble.

Bill received a familiar cold reception in the Senate State Affairs Committee. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas suggested it should be killed on the spot. Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells offered an amendment to force newsmen to disclose their sources of information when questioned in court.

House State Affairs committee offered a more sympathetic ear.

Bill was sent to sub-committees in both panels. House may pass it, but chances in the Senate appear dim indeed.

WOMEN WIN, LOSE — Texas ladies have won around and lost one in legislative skirmishes.

Senate tentatively approved the controversial "equal legal rights for women" constitutional amendment, then sent it back to committee in hope of "purging it of an amendment sponsors consider crippling."

Senate Military Affairs Committee approved a bill to strictly limit admission of women students to once all-male Texas A&M University.

Sen. Bill Moore threatened to quit as chairman of the upper house Education Committee because the bill was yanked from his panel and re-referred to the more sympathetic committee. Moore also is sponsor of the equal rights proposal.

NO CITY SALES TAX — There will be no permissive city sales tax approved this session.

House killed the proposition 56-84. Bill was sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin.

Governor Connally made defeated city officials feel somewhat better by agreeing to ask for a Texas Research League study of metropolitan county and state responsibilities, looking toward a new definition of duties.

SHORT SNORTS — Bill to create a new State Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to take over the job of the present Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools cleared both Houses after hard work by its authors, Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi and Rep. Wallace Miller of Houston.

Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, president pro tempore of Senate, will become "governor for a day" on April 20 — Tuberculosis eradication

FAIRVIEW NEWS

Mrs. Elmer Joiner
Isn't it wonderful that spring has arrived? It happened last Saturday but we were all shut up in the house, huddled around the fire trying to keep from freezing to death and failed to notice it. Any little robins peeking their heads out might have gotten them frozen off, so all the proof that we have that spring is here is that the calendar says so. The weather man says that the weather picture looks about the same this Monday morning that it did last, with more cold weather moving in Tuesday, all sounding very cold again.

Last Wednesday was the annual meeting of the Stamford R. E. A., which ends with a barbecue dinner. Our area was well represented, counting nineteen persons from our community, which goes to prove that the drought is beginning to have effects, we were all hunting a free meal. Seriously, we all did enjoy the delicious meal, which was catered by Underwoods and they always have good food. Out of these present, Fred Rosenbaum was the only lucky one, as he drew a gift certificate for five dollars.

Word was received Friday morning by Mrs. Johnnie Agnew that her aunt, Mrs. D. M. Harris, had passed away the night before, in Commerce, Texas. Funeral services were conducted at the place Sunday afternoon, after which the body was brought to Hamlin.

Cats have highly developed vision and hunt by sight, while dogs rely on their keen sense of smell.

About 220,000 convicts are held in the nation's prisons.

where another service will be held today (Monday) and burial will be beside her husband in the Fairview cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were residents of our community for many years and two of the outstanding members of our church, both serving in almost every place there was for them to serve. If any of us in this community were ever good quilters, it was because of the teachings of Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Harber, who now lives in Abilene. Mrs. Harris loved to do anything that was a help to her community, a good woman has passed on to her reward.

Attendance was fair at church Sunday morning, but am afraid to learn about Sunday night, as so many of us that have been a "ailing" were afraid to get out in the cold air. Seems as if you have ever been sick this winter, every little cold spell brings it back, which begins to get disgusting after weeks and weeks.

The Jack Wright family got to come to church Sunday, as a family, for the first time since soon after Christmas.

The two little boys are improved, being able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wainwright and Jimmy, had lots of company Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Stephens and three children, Odessa, spent Saturday night. Coming Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McCright, Royston, a brother of Mrs. Wainwright, and her father, T. N. McCright, of Roby. A daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peters and children, Stamford, also were on hand. One little grandson, woke up Sunday morning with the mumps.

Connie Drake has had the flu several days, then Sunday his sisters Della and Maude, took it. They were late taking it, but didn't escape after all.

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Leverett, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Tanner, went to Dallas, over the weekend to see Mrs. Tanner's doctor, for a check up. Enroute home they visited with Rev. Harrell, of Kennedale, who was a former pastor of Central Avenue Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Runt McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Joiner and children, were Sunday afternoon visitors of the Elmer Joins.

Word was received Sunday that Mrs. Lois Hammon had suffered another blood clot,

Use Week End Specials as Guide To Cut Food Costs, Says Specialist

COLLEGE STATION. — Use weekend specials as a guide to cutting food costs, says Mrs. Gwen Ciyatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Prices do fluctuate, and shoppers who take advantage of these slight changes can come out ahead.

A recent study by the Economic Research Service of the USDA showed that the average weekly food bill for a family of four-- which included two teenagers -- was $32.11 over a three-month period. During this time, the food bill varied from month to month. For the first month, the market basket averaged $33.04 a week, and one month later the cost of the identical food was $1.13 less. By the third month, it had dropped another 51 cents.

Lower prices for meat and some vegetables were responsible for most of the differences, the survey showed. Meat, which accounts for one-third of the family's weekly food bill, was the item most frequently on sale.

Among the meats on sale during the survey, chuck roast was first followed by frying chickens, ground beef and luncheon meats. Also listed were vegetables, dairy products, fats and oils, fruit and vegetable juices, fresh and canned fruits, coffee and soft drinks. These items can add up to a well-balanced diet, the specialist says.

Car License Deadline Is Wednesday

With less than a week remaining to purchase license plates, the sales are moving rather slowly at the office of Turner-Nail Insurance Agency.

Tuesday, Wesley Nail who is in charge of the sales locally, said that 1,000 private automobile licenses had been sold and they expect to sell around 600 more before the deadline, Apr. 1.

About 300 commercial vehicle plates have been sold.

The sales are running about the same as last year and Mr. Nail said he hoped it will not be necessary to have people wait in lines to be served.

People are being urged to purchase their plates as soon as possible to avoid having lines next week.

Drive Planned to Raise $1271 In County for Screwworm Fight

In response to an urgent request from the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation Charlie Myatt, Jones County Chairman for the Screwworm eradication program met with members of the committee Thursday morning to plan a drive to raise this County's emergency quota of $1271.

With the highly successful campaign to eradicate the screwworm through the release of sterile flies well over the hump, the foundation is in need of emergency funds to maintain the program until a new Federal appropriation is available, according to information received from Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Mission, Texas, president of the foundation.

In his letter to Myatt, Mr. Briscoe outlined the need as follows:

Contributions from producers, based on 10 cents per animal, of $300,000 to be supplemented by a state appropriation of $250,000 and a Federal contribution of $550,000.

These funds would be used to maintain the program, now being carried across the Rio Grande into Mexico, until June 30, after which an expected Federal appropriation would carry on until the job was completed, Myatt explained.

Jones County's quota was based on the latest figures on the livestock population indicating that the county has some 13,000 mother cows, around 4,000 head of sheep and goats and approximately 1,000 head of swine.

Through the quota is based on volunteer suggested contributions from each farmer and rancher of 10 cents per head of livestock, Myatt said that "free will" donations in larger sums would help to raise the sum in the short period of time allotted between now and April 5 when the first check will be sent to the foundation.

Success of the program thus far is indicated in the following figures posted at the meeting:

In 1962 the state had 50,000 reported screwworm cases. The next year after the eradication effort was begun the number dropped to 5,000 and last year only 223 cases were reported.

Only 12 counties in the state reported no infestation in 1962 and in 1963 there were 72 counties that were free of infestation.

Jones County had no reported case of screwworm last year, according to a report from County Agent, Kirby Clayton.

County committee members meeting with Myatt Thursday were Clyde Wright, Rt. 3, Anson; C. E. Newsom, Lueders; B. R. Vancil, Rt. 1, Merkel; H. A. Haynes, Rt. 6, Abilene; J. H. Doty, Rt. 2, Avoca; and Maxey Harvey, Rt. 6, Abilene.

Other members of the committee contacted, who are expected to assist with the fund drive are Guy Steen, Anson; Jack Morrow, Hawley; Berl Sauls, Hamlin; Gerald Proctor, Stamford; Carl Swenson, Stamford; Charles Stenholm, Avoca; and Newman West, Anson.

The following VA teachers are also expected to cooperate in the drive: J. F. Dozier, Anson; Charles Stenholm, Avoca; Weldon Holdbrook, Stamford; John Quinby, Lueders; Earnest Tate, Noodle; and T. C. Blankenship, Hamlin.

$454,000 Insurance Bought on County Courthouse

The Jones County courthouse is now insured for $454,000 with the insurance being spread among 12 insurance agents in the county.

Judge Leon Thurman said the commissioners increased the coverage to this figure upon the recommendation of insurance company representatives. Formerly, the county carried a much smaller amount of insurance under a 50 per cent co-insurance program.

Current coverage is under an 80 per cent co-insurance plan.

In addition to the amount on the building, other insurance is carried on the contents.

1964 Marked First Year for Traffic Fatalities to Exceed 3,000 in Texas

AUSTIN — Traffic fatalities in Texas exceeded the 3,000 mark for the first time in history during the 1964 calendar year.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported that the traffic death book for 1964 was closed at noon Monday, March 15, with a total of 3,006 fatalities on the streets and highways of Texas.

"The total for last year represents a 10 per cent increase over the 2,729 lives lost in 1963," Garrison said. "Coupled with this tragic loss of life is the staggering economic loss of almost $487 million."

Garrison reported that the DPS Statistical Services estimated that traffic accidents increased from 399,917 in 1963, to 454,762 during 1964. The number of miles driven in the state increased from 52.3 billion in 1963 to slightly over 55.6 billion last year.

The death rate (the number of fatalities for each 1000 million miles of travel) was 5.4 during 1964, compared to 5.2 during 1963. The figure was the highest death rate since 1957, when it reached 6.0.

"Each month throughout the year," Garrison stated, "more than 200 fatalities were reported to the DPS. For six of the months, the total exceeded 250 deaths per month. "We are well into the 1965 driving year, and statistics indicate that fatalities are far ahead of last year's tragic record. Unless each driver accepts the responsibility of operating a motor vehicle properly, we can only look forward to an even greater total of death and suffering for the present year."

Garrison said that acceptance of responsibility and the resolution on the part of each driver to follow the rules of safety could aid materially in reducing tragedy during 1965 and the years to come.

High School Students to Attend Atomic Energy Symposium April 2

Outstanding high school students from the Abilene area will attend a symposium on atomic energy featuring some of the nation's leading scientists to be held April 2 on the Hardin-Simmons University campus.

The all day conference will be sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company and Hardin-Simmons.

It is the hope of WTU that this program will not only prove to be extremely informative to the high school students but will also be an inspiration to those students who may be considering science as a career.

The program has been arranged by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation of which WTU is a member. The Foundation, which is composed of 10 investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas, is engaged in a program of nuclear fusion research with the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation seeking to harness the energy process of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful purposes, including the generation of electric power.

An outstanding nuclear scientist, Dr. Martin Stern, will appear on the program. He is from General Atomic's John Jay Hopkins Laboratory in San Diego, California where the fusion research is being carried out.

Other speakers at the conference will include Dr. W. T. Guy, Chairman of the department of math at the University of Texas; Dr. B. H. Amstutz, Associate Dean, College of Engineering at the University of Texas; Dr. Harold P. Hanson, Chairman of the department of Physics at the University of Texas; and Howard R. Drew, Executive Vice President for the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

Another Enrollment Period Set For 'Texas '65' Insurance Program

Texas citizens 65 years of age and over will have an opportunity to again purchase Texas 65 Health Insurance during the last two weeks of April, according to an announcement by H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association.

Texas 65 was organized in 1963 by 64 of the leading insurance companies in the state to offer low cost health coverage to senior citizens of Texas who had previously been unable to purchase health insurance because of age or physical condition.

The program is available only during open enrollment periods to any Texas resident 65 years of age and over, regardless of physical condition, and without the necessity of completing a lengthy medical questionnaire.

Husbands and wives of those past 65 who purchase the insurance may also qualify for Texas 65 though they have not attained the age of 65. Coverage may also be purchased by sons and daughters in behalf of parents or relatives without the necessity of the insured's signature.

"That Texas 65 is filling the need we hoped it would be evidenced by the fact that over $4 million dollars has been paid in claims by the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association since the program was started on November 1, 1963," Rietz stated.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Most hunted animal in Texas For two months hunters will take this animal any way they can — with lights, dogs or traps. Afterwards, the fur will wind up on some woman's back in the form of a beautiful coat.

Only fur-bearing animal left in Texas that commands a worthwhile price on the market is the ringtail. In recent years the pelts have held steady at about $1.25 each for the better ones.

Many Texans never have seen a ringtail.

This diminutive creature spends most of its life in the dark. It beds down in a den during the day. And it will not venture into the open until well after dusk.

Then, unlike most nocturnal prowlers, it retires before daylight arrives. Only on very rare occasions will you see a ringtail during the daylight hours.

Although the ringtail ranges over much of the dry Western half of the United States, the biggest population is found right here in Texas.

There are more ringtails in the Edwards Plateau of Central Texas than any other comparable region.

This animal is mistakenly called the ring-tailed cat. But, it isn't a member of the cat family. It's a carnivore closely kin to the common raccoon.

Average ringtail is about 20 inches long, including tail and weighs between two and three pounds.

Its tail and round eyes which appear much too large for its meek-looking face are the ringtail's most notable characteristics. The tail has alternating black and white rings, hence the name ringtail.

In all, there will be 14 to 16 rings which don't quite come together on the underside of the tail. Overall coloration is a tanish or grayish hue. Its tell-tale is curiosity more than anything else. Eyes glow brightly when caught in the beam of a headlamp or flashlight.

Despite the fact that thousands of ringtails are killed each year it is remarkable how little is known about this animal.

"There just isn't much available information on the ringtail," says Al Springs, coordinator for Wildlife restoration with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. "We've run a study on its food habits, but other than that I can't tell you too much about it. Frankly, I doubt whether a majority of Texans even know it exists."

A dietary analysis made of more than 100 ringtails revealed that about one-fourth of its total intake is composed of tiny mammals like mice and rats, including carrion.

Otherwise, it feeds upon fruits of native plants, birds, snakes, lizards and various insects like spiders, scorpions and centipedes. Believe it or not, one of its favorite foods is the common mistletoe which grows in mesquite trees.

It isn't unusual to have a ringtail answer a predator call. But considering this diet composition, it sort of makes a person wonder what motivation could possibly prompt the animal to be attracted by the dying-rabbit cries. Perhaps it chings for the glow of eyes.

Usually ringtails live along rocky ledges where they den in crevices.

Female hatch their young in the spring and average between two and four offspring. Young ringtails are almost helpless at birth and don't open their eyes until 31 to 34 days later. At about four months they have the same overall look of adults. But, of course, they are smaller in size.

One reason the ringtail isn't better known is because very few exist in captivity. Unlike coons and other similar animals, the ringtail doesn't show up around farm houses as pets. Seldom the they caught when young. This because the young rarely venture out until they are grown. Also the very nature of the ringtail's living habits, in the narrow and confining rock crevices, make the young difficult to capture alive. It isn't unusual for several adult ringtails to den together. But when you find them out prowling at night they almost invariably will be traveling alone.

Most hunters seek them simply by walking slowly through the woods, swinging a bright light through the treetops, searching for the glow of eyes. the method used, the Texas hunter finds great pleasure in ped. A few are treed by packs seeking the animal.

Abilene Woman Reviews Book for Guest Day Tea

Mrs. Alton J. Willingham of Abilene reviewed "Washington Wife" - a Journal by Ellen Maury Slayden for members of the Women's Literary Club and their guests at the annual guest day tea held Friday in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Guests were served in the parlor from a table covered with a white cutwork cloth, centered with an arrangement of yellow mums and wedge-wood daffodils. Crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Holly Toler served.

Members of the refreshment committee were Mmes. A. B. Carlton, C. F. Cook and C. T. Murrell.

KEEPING UP TO DATE ---

DELAYED CURE

The term "delayed cure" may sound like a health fad, but it actually refers to a new textile process which represents happy news from the family wardrobe.

Wash-wears finished by this technique have an exceptional ability to retain their shape during wear and after laundering, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, home demonstration agent for Jones County.

Durable creases and pleats can be set in to last the life of the garment, even after repeated washing.

Slacks, trousers and work pants were the first cotton garments to be made by this new process. Sport shirts, blouses and dresses are expected on the market this spring, and all-cotton suits are now being developed for men. At present, most of the fabrics used are a blend of cotton with either nylon or polyester fiber.

The finish requires two steps, says Mrs. Newberry. First, the fabric is treated with thermosetting resin and goes to the manufacturer to be made into garments—including sharp creases or pleats, if desired.

Then the finished garments are placed in a high-temperature oven to "cure" the finish. This permanently sets the shape of the entire garment. It also reduces the problem of subsequent seamucker and eliminates the need for touch-up ironing.

Certain wools are also being treated by a chemical process with a delayed setting similar to that used for cottons and nylon blends. Creases or pleats are made in finished woolen garments, and the setting takes place in a subsequent step—again assuring the durable sharpness so important to a pleated fashion.

LEATHER LININGS INSURE COMFORT

Here's an inside tip for shoe shoppers. Consider new spring shoes with a leather lining for comfort and long-lasting fashion.

Leather linings in shoes are making a tremendous comeback this year—and for a good reason, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent.

The "breathing" leather linings keep feet dry and cool and leather lining guards the foot from chafing and the irritation of burning feet. The leather lining adds body to the shoe without weight—in the pump, spectator and sling back designs. The lining helps the shoe hold its shape longer.

In many spring fashions of pumps, spectators and town walking shoes, the leather lining is actually two pieces. The forward section is smooth and dainty, and the back is padded for a no-slip hold on the foot. This design give the wearer the feeling of luxury and a sure-footed walk.

Imaginative shoe designers are using leather linings to help set off the beauty of their shoes this spring. Many shoes have colored or tinted leather linings to match or contrast with the shoe upper leather color. In others, a smooth leather lining is used to set off a suede leather or brushed leather upper.

Homemakers who are planning to paper a room this spring may be doing some fancy figuring to determine how much to buy.

This information from Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones Co. Home Dem. Agent can help persons figure the need for a given room.

A single roll of wall paper covers 36 square feet, and a double roll, 72.

Figure the area of each wall—the height time the width—and add these together. Subtract the area of each window and door opening. Multiply by 1.1—to take care of waste and matching.

You now have the area to be covered. So divide by 72 or 36, depending on which size roll you wish to buy—single or double.

Agent Offers Aid In Determining Plant Diseases

Ornamental plants have many diseases. Symptoms may appear on the foliage, stems, fruit or roots of a plant. Because the organisms responsible for the trouble are very small, diagnosis may be difficult, explains County Agent Kirby Clayton.

In fact, he added, the casual organisms can be seen only with the aid of a microscope. Since most home owners usually do not have a microscope available, symptoms must be relied upon for identification of the disease.

Clayton added that he has available at his office, publications which could help make the identification job much easier. He listed MP-512, "Identifying Plant Diseases," as one of the most valuable but added he also has other material which home owners should find very useful.

After studying the plant disease material, home owners who have trouble identifying disease symptoms are advised to give the county agent a call or visit. If he has not had experience with the disease, he may suggest sending a specimen to the Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas

Mmes. L. H. McBride, Richard Young Jr., and A. A. Hackley. Mrs. Willingham was introduced by Mrs. Donley Williams, club president, who also welcomed guests.

The book, which was published only two years ago, 40 years after the author's death, was a journal of happenings in Washington while Mrs. Slayden's husband, James Luther Sladen, was a representative from the San Antonio District.

The book covers the time from 1897 to 1919 and has a modern sound with death of a president, demonstrations for causes, rights for women, at this time the right to vote, and marche for causes which were called hikes.

PIPER PATTERN— Past Week End Very Eventful For Hamlin High Students

by Nancy Ford
Carolyn Reynolds
Marolyn Reynolds

The weekend of March 20 proved very eventful for many Hamlin High School students. With three different activities taking place, high honors were achieved in every event. Jan Albritton, a Junior student, was selected by merit to be in the FHA all-state choir which will sing at the state FHA meeting, David Drummond, a Senior student, won the mile run at the Coleman track meet with a time of 4 minutes and 39.5 seconds. Eight band members won first divisions on first class solos and ensembles which permits them to go to All-State Solos and Ensemble Contest held in Austin the first part of the summer. They are: Reba Jackson, freshman-alto saxophone solo; Randy Morgan, freshman - bass horn solo; Carolyn Reynolds, senior - alto saxophone solo; Jackie Townley, senior - clarinet solo; Sharon Townley, eight grader - clarinet solo; and Gary Caudle senior, Randy Smith, sophomore, and Dennis Weaver, sophomore - trombone trio.

Other Division 1 ratings were Peggy Jones, clarinet; James Knable, cornet; Dianna Crowley, cornet; Gary Carson, cornet; C. A. Jenkins, bass horn; Chris Perrin, snare drum; Billy Browning, Jana Ferguson and Dianna Crowley, cornet trio; Jane Hymer, Chris Perrin, Mike Owen, Linda Nichols and Terese Perrin, drum quintet.

Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20, were big days for Area IV F. H. A. 'ers. The annual area meeting was held in Stephenville. Eight girls and two sponsors left Friday to attend the meeting. Judy Jenkins entered talent night doing an impersonation entitled "Killer Diller". Mary Lois Patterson and Jan Albritton tried out for the State FHA Choir. Nancy Ford and Mary Lois Patterson were recognized for state achievements.

The Track Team traveled to Coleman Saturday, March 20, to compete against other area teams in track and field events. Members of the Piper Band and the Junior High Band went to Brownwood Saturday March 20. Out of a number of seventy students participating, twenty-two students (14 events) won first division medals. The medals-bronze for a third-class solo, silver for a second-class solo, and gold for a first-class solo are highly treasured by everyone who received them.

more students and a girl chorus and climaxed by a panel discussion on teens and their problems, the assembly program provided entertainment and enjoyment for the student body and faculty. The panel consisted of Rev. Spencer Liles, Mrs. Richard Young and Coach Jerry Larned. The class sponsors are Mrs. J. B. Jayroe and Coach Larned.

The theme this week for the National Honor Society's "Spring Cleaning '65" is Brush Up on Your Studies". A bulletin board was made by each NHS member in order to promote better study habits and scholarship among the students of Hamlin High School.

Neinda Philosopher Figures Problem With Viet Nam Is Maybe It Has Too Many People Like Him

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 takes another look at the Viet Nam situation this week. It's not clear what he sees.

Dear editor:
According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, the American newspaper reporters in Viet Nam are complaining because the U. S. government won't let them move around freely in the country to report the news.

"Without freedom to report the news, the American public will not get a true picture of what's happening in Viet Nam," the reporters complained.

Now I'm not in favor of censorship, outside maybe of reporting what this Johnson grass farm made last year, but I'm afraid that if the reporters in Viet Nam think the only reason we don't have a clear picture of what's happening over there is that they aren't allowed to report it, they aren't taking a very practical view of the matter.

However, if one single reporter knows what's taking place, we ought to buy him a ticket home and let him tell us. I have a notion President Johnson himself would buy the ticket if he thought he could get the complete dope.

Moreover, I have an idea the Viet Nam people themselves would like to find out what's happening.

And even if we knew everything that's taking place over there, I'm afraid we still couldn't make heads or tails of it.

It may be that there are too many people in Viet Nam about like me. Regardless of how many experts come out here and tell me how I can make this Johnson grass farm pay more and give me a richer and fuller life, and regardless of how right they are and how sound their advice is, I just never do get around to doing much about it.

On the other hand, if I had 200 million hungry Chinese starving under a dictator and clamoring to break through my sagging fences, I might be hollering for all the help I could get.

Don't ask me the answers to such problems. Don't even ask me who to ask. In fact, if some of those reporters know what's happening in Viet Nam, why doesn't Congress subpoena them at once to come home and testify, so it can get in on it too?

Yours faithfully
J. A.

As It Looks From Here . . .

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Bob Bartlett of Alaska recently stated on the Senate floor that doctors had found a high percentage of toxic poisons in the bodies of Eskimos. The theory is that some migrating fish from the United States and Canada are supposed to account for a part of it. The remainder has been accumulated from caribou and reindeer meat, but certainly neither has been down in this part of the country. It was determined that they fed on perennial grasses which, unlike seasonal grasses, had collected a large amount of pesticide fallout. Since no pesticides have been used within hundreds of miles, the theory is that, like radiation fallout, residual poisons from pesticides can, in one way or another, travel vast distances.

IN 1961, THIS COLUMN QUOTED Dr. Clarence Cottam, Director of the Welder Wildlife Foundation at Sinton, Texas, who said, "When a man in his frenzy to make a quick dollar depletes the productive soil, encourages its erosion or adds poisons to it that, directly or indirectly, endanger plant and animal life, he is jeopardizing his own security and future."

THE FOUR BASIC INGREDIENTS FOR LIFE ON EARTH are soil, water, air and sunshine. Life is curtailed or handicapped to the extent that any of these requirements are made unuseable or unavailable.

PESTICIDES, WHEN USED WISELY AND SKILLFULLY under responsible

practices, have done much to improve agriculture and effect better health.

IMPROPERLY AND EXCESSIVELY USED, they are doing much unnecessary damage to wildlife and to human health.

RACHEL CARSON WROTE HER BOOK, "SILENT SPRING," in 1962, but it was obvious a long time ago that the problem of pesticides and insecticides was bound to mount and grow before adequate answers were found.

AGAIN IN 1961, THIS COLUMN POINTED TO THE NEED for research on direct and indirect effects of residual poisons to humans and wildlife for these reasons:

1. Some medical authorities believe cancer and blood diseases, as well as serious nutritional disorders are related to chemical poisons and their carriers.

2. Highly toxic and long lasting pesticides cause numerous deaths of birds, mammals, fish and other organisms beneficial to human life. Tests strongly indicate some of these chemicals reduce natural reproductive rates in birds and animals and weaken them to the point where they fall victim to predators and disease.

3. Poisons washing from fields into streams and lakes not only kill fish, birds and mammals but threaten to contaminate surface and subsurface public water supplies.

4. Residues of poisons build up or accumulate in tissues and can be transmitted to man through the consumption of domestic meat products and wild game as well as milk and raw vegetables.

5. A rapidly increasing list of pests are developing immunity to some chemicals, requiring larger and larger dosages, which creates additional hazards.

RATHER EXHAUSTIVE STUDIES ALREADY SHOW:

1. Minimum dosages required to control pests should not be exceeded.

2. More emphasis be placed on the development of selective chemical pesticides which will control specific pests without damage to valuable resources.

3. It is important that emphasis be given to biological control methods. As an example, the sterilization of the male fly by radioactive cobalt has proved successful in the control of screwworm.

AS WAS POINTED OUT IN THIS NEWSLETTER IN 1961, "The use of poisonous chemicals will become a more

Appaloosa Horse Show Planned In Sweetwater May 15

More than one hundred Appaloosa horses are expected to be shown at the Second Annual West Texas Appaloosa Horse Show scheduled for Nolan County Coliseum in Sweetwater starting at 10 a. m. Saturday, May 15.

The show is under the supervision of The West Texas Appaloosa Horse Club and The Appaloosa Horse Club, Inc. of Moscow, Idaho.

Exhibitors may enter as many horses in any class as desired in the exhibition and judging. Show points count toward the yearly award given Appaloosa raisers by Texas Appaloosa Horse Club. These points qualify performance horses to the World's Championship Appaloosa Performance Show. Twenty-one trophies are planned in the halter and junior classes. Thirteen trophies are planned for the performance class.

The West Texas Appaloosa Horse Club, headquarters in Midland, will award a door prize to those attending the show. That prize will be a year old Appaloosa colt registered as "Captain Bud."

Information concerning entries by Appaloosa owners should be sent to Mrs. Doris Griffin, secretary-treasurer, a story that swings the gamut from cinematic mirth to a bed-rock search for spiritual and scientific truth.

The two boys visit the head of a university biology department, a professed evolutionist who none-the-less carefully documents problems he faces in seeking to trace species-to-species development. The biologist then introduces Jim and Toby to one of his junior instructors, a man who has given considerable study to the Bible and science. Through the aid of these two educators, the boys come to an invigorating respect for both science and the Bible.

Newest in luxury cars is Chevrolet's Caprice Custom Sedan

The newest Chevrolet-built passenger car, making its bow this week at the Chicago Auto Show, is the Caprice Custom Sedan. The Caprice is a luxury-type car featuring a plush interior with rear-seat folding armrest, distinctive courtesy lights and a noticeable hushed ride accomplished by new chassis improvements. A color-keyed paint stripe and special nameplates and emblems distinguish the exterior of the Caprice. The new luxury car will soon be in Chevrolet dealer showrooms across the nation.

LEARN HUNTER'S CALL FOR HELP

AUSTIN, Tex. — The Texas Safety Association urges all hunters to learn the hunter's signal for help. Fire three shots at evenly spaced intervals, repeating several minutes apart. If you fail to get a response, wait until the sun sets. Your shots after sundown will attract the nearest game warden. Light a small fire and stay put until he arrives.

Spaniards revolutionized the economy of the American Plains Indians by introduction of the horse. They could round up buffalo herds and travel great distances with the new steeds. It changed them from an agricultural life to that of the hunter.

Foursquare Church to Show Film Saturday

A serious-minded high school student's search for facts and fallacies relative to the alleged incompatibility of the Bible and modern science forms the backdrop for a sparkling motion picture drama to be shown at the Hamlin Foursquare Church, Saturday March 27, at 7:00 p. m., according to information received from Rev. John Waldren, of Abilene Divisional Youth Director, sponsor of the showing here.

The showing is in connection with the Youth Rally which young people of the Wichita Valley Division will be attending.

Entitled "MONKEY BUSINESS", the fifty-minute color film traces the adventures of a teen-ager named Jim and his impetuous friend Toby. "Face it," Toby says, "monkeys are an awful lot like people." To which Jim counters, "I believe God created monkeys to be monkeys, just as he created people to be people." From these two viewpoints springs

EXTERIOR LIGHTING OF THE ALAMO will turn "night into day" at the Cradle of Texas Liberty in downtown San Antonio. A General Electric lighting system, donated by the Company, will provide illumination of the Alamo Chapel. Spotlighting will be directed at the Cenotaph, a memorial to the 187 men who died in the defense of liberty. The lighting, which will create an effect comparable to that shown in this artist's rendering, is expected to be installed within 90 days.

Amount of Light Said to Effect Degree of Marbling in Beef

COLLEGE STATION. — The amount of light to which beef cattle are exposed prior to slaughter appears to have a significant influence on the degree of marbling in the carcass, says Dr. Jan C. Bonsma, visiting professor of Texas A&M University.

Dr. Bonsma, a famed animal scientist and head of the Department of Animal Science at the University of Pretoria, Republic of South Africa, came to this conclusion as the result of experiments conducted with two-year old Hereford steers in his native country. "I kept 14 animals in total darkness for a period of 2 1/2 months before slaughter," says Dr. Bonsma. "Fourteen other steers were kept under normal light conditions and another 14 were subjected to more light than they would normally receive."

The effects of the light were clearly visible when the cuts were graded by a meat specialist after slaughter.

"The meat from those steers kept in total darkness had a higher percentage of marbling than the meat from the others."

The calves with highly marbled cuts were kept in barns most of the time. They were occasionally put in a small pen outside at night to exercise. "There was no fly problem. The calves were calmer than under ordinary circumstances," Dr. Bonsma said.

The calves kept in darkness had much longer hair growth and had a lower gonadotropin

Farm Management Specialist Says Farmers Need More System

AMARILLO. — Farmers need a system of operations to maximize returns on their places, says James Murphrey, Panhandle area farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Murphrey says too many farmers jump from one enterprise to another instead of having a definite system. A plan can help the farmer hone his operation into a stable, money making operation, he says.

"The tendency to plunge in content in the blood. The feed conversion ratio was about the same," said Dr. Bonsma.

Dr. Bonsma was brought to Texas A&M for one year by a Wortham Foundation grant.

and then jump out of different farm enterprises in one of the main faults of big farmers here in the Panhandle," Murphrey says.

According to Murphrey, farmers are more successful when they have a definite system of operation.

A system has many advantages, he says. It stabilizes credit needs, buying and selling channels, and time of income. More important, a system gives a farmer a chance to work on the efficiency of an enterprise.

"For example, when a man has wheat pasture," Murphrey said, "he shouldn't lease it one year, buy steers for it the next year and run cows on it the third year."

"Instead, he should pick one

Herald to Run Youth's Pictures

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world our nation and community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publisher of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work will be here Saturday. Pictures will be taken at the White Plaza Hotel from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

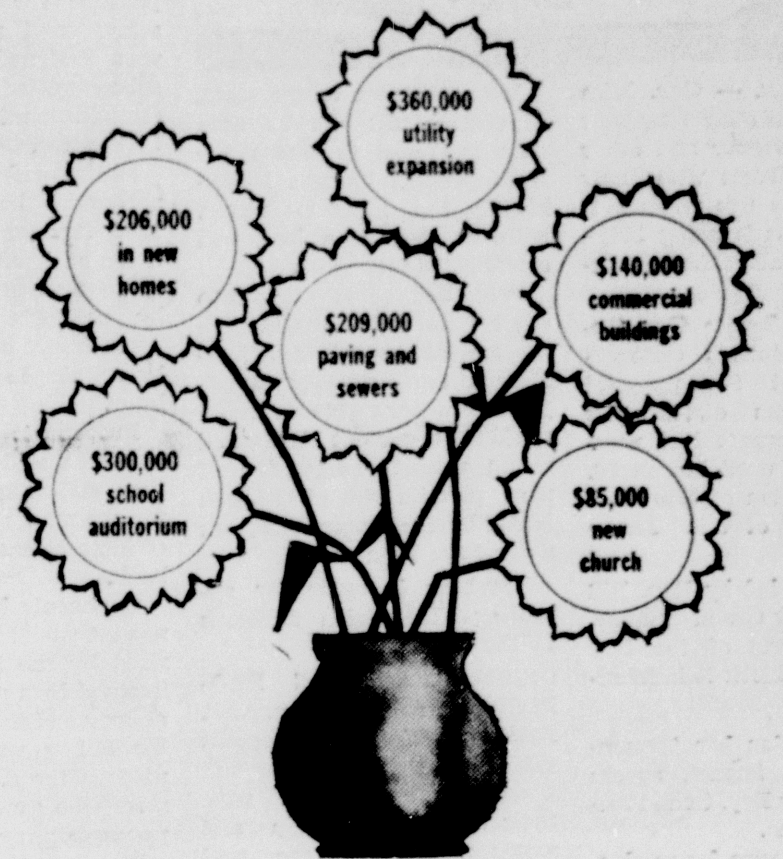

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want. Appointments may be had by calling Mrs. Boyd Gibson, 4-1846.

system and stick with it. If he stayed with cows or bought steers each year," Murphrey said, "he'd gradually learn the best way to handle them for maximum returns. He'd become a manager rather than gambler."

The management specialist says erratic weather, unstable livestock prices and influences from changing government programs effect the in-and-out characteristics of Panhandle farmers.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. John Connally's push for four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials who now are limited to two years between elections is being bottled up in a balky House committee.

While the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee advanced the proposal with minimum dissent, its House counterpart has postponed action until March 30, Rep. John Allen of Longview is chairman of this House Committee.

Opponents, led by Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, made no secret of the fact they hope to block it indefinitely.

The resolution has tremendous political impact, agrees House sponsor Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine.

If Connally runs for re-election, as many feel he will, a four-year term would place him only at the mid-point of his third term when the national elections roll around in 1968. He thus would be free to concentrate his efforts on helping old friend President Lyndon B. Johnson in his expected bid for another four years in the White House.

Opponents offer a variety of reasons for their stand. Some say they don't want the governor in a position to take a hand in legislative races during his "off" year. Others claim they have no objection to the governor's having a four-year term, but don't want to extend the benefit to other statewide officials now limited to two years. Still others believe officials should be answerable to the voters often.

Proponents argue just as convincingly that most states already allow four-year terms to their chief executives, and that longer terms would give officials more time to concentrate on their duties without pressure of frequent political campaigns.

Odds are that the governor eventually will find a way to get a floor vote on the proposed amendment to the constitution before session's end. Then, assuming the necessary two-thirds of lawmakers approve, it will be up to the voters to judge the issues raised. WATER BILL — Most important piece of water legislation to come before the current session was introduced in the deadline rush.

Bill by Rep. Raleigh Brown of Abilene lays out a way for Texas to find out how much water it has in its streams and who can use it.

Water belongs to the state, of course, and can be used only by those to whom the state permits its use. Establishing the right to water, however, can be a long and complicated procedure.

Procedure could tie into other bills which would give the present Texas Water Commission the authority to adjudicate water rights. It would not disturb present rights and would permit cancellation of many permits which have been issued by the Commission, but never have been used.

Provision is made for appealing Commission decisions to the courts.

CITRUS LABELING PROPOSED — A bill by Rep. A. C. Atwood of Edinburg proposes that all imported oranges and grapefruits be labeled with their country of origin and stores where they are sold display a sign reading "Imported Fresh Citrus Fruit Sold Here."

Bill also would require identification as "Cold Storage" of any place where products are stored under refrigeration for more than 60 days after harvest or initial refrigeration.

BIGGER SENATE? — Many state senators, looking for a painless way out of legislative redistricting, may have found it in the proposed constitutional amendment to increase their membership.

Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee unanimously approved a resolution to add eight new senatorial districts to the present 31. It also calls for six-year terms for senators, who now serve four-year terms.

Some senators think an early statewide election should be called on the measure and a 39-district reapportionment bill passed in advance to meet the August deadline for redrawing lines on an equal-population basis.

Ranking House members have indicated they have no objection. Big-city legislators point out that the bigger senate would insure metropolitan areas with multiple representation in the upper chamber. It also would give incumbent senators from sparsely-populated districts a fighting chance to hold on to their seats.

BUDGET CONFEREES NAMED — Joint Conference Committee which will write the final version of the 1966-67 state spending bill already is at work.

Senate conferees are Sens. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, A. M. Aikin of Paris, Bill Moore of Bryan, Martin Dies

Jr. of Luffkin and J. P. Ward of Meridian.

House conferees are Reps. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, Gus Mutscher of Brenham, Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Richard Slack of Pecos.

FARMER SELF-ASSESSMENT — A bill by Rep. Felix McDonald of Edinburg to authorize agricultural producers to assess themselves up to one per cent the value of their produce for advertising, research and marketing funds was assigned to study by a subcommittee of the House Constitutional Amendments Committee.

Bill provides that if voters authorize the amendment in 1966, farmers within specified areas still would have to vote the assessment on themselves by at last a 2-to-1 vote. Amendment could be canceled by a simple majority vote later.

Proponents say the assessments would be much less than authorized and that any farmer who requested refund of his assessment would get it back.

Opponents believe the assessment would be a tax authorized by the Legislature, but imposed by a non-governmental body and that the money, as the bill is written, could be used to the detriment of farmers who contributed it.

LIQUOR BILL KILLED — Senate Jurisprudence Committee unceremoniously killed the bill to permit restaurant sale of liquor in small bottles with meals.

Unexpectedly-firm action of the committee assured no liquor-by-the-drink or open-saloons bill will be passed this session.

Sen. Jim Bate of Edinburg sponsored the unsuccessful small-bottles bill which met opposition from liquor stores as well as dries. Bill was backed by the Texas Restaurant Association.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio says he will continue to push for hearing of his open saloons bill but admits it has little chance.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Governor Connally has completed a long list of appointments.

He reassigned Chester C. Wine of Corpus Christi and Claude W. Brown of McCombs to Texas Industrial Commission and named L. F. Bay of Brownwood to replace E. B. Germany of Dallas.

Reappointed to State Seed and Plant Board were Garwood Gerdes of Giddings, Heino Staffel Jr. of Austin, C. B. Godbey of College Station and Dr. A. W. Young of Lubbock. New appointments went to B. Raymond Evans of Tulia and Grady C. Clark Jr. of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Nancy Lee Bass of Fort Worth was named to the State Board of Mansion Supervisors.

Mrs. Joyce Herd of Dallas was reappointed to the State Board of Tuberculosis Nurse Examiners.

Reappointed to the Advisory Council were James P. Mc-

God's Purposes

If you were having a picnic at the lake at approximately this spot, you might say, "Well, why did the engineers leave those trees in the water when they made this lake? They create such an eyesore. I can see no purpose in it." Yet, fishermen tell us that the fish love those old tree stumps and roots and that you can almost always find fish swimming in the dark recesses around and between these trees.

So many times we question God's wisdom in allowing some things to be and other things to come to pass. But God is good and his purposes are wise. The very thing that seems useless to us, might make us marvel if we could see with Heaven's eyes.

As Isaiah reminds us, "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

But he also wants us to know that his thoughts are many toward us and that everything works toward our good and our salvation. If we had no conflicts, and no questions, we would never have the opportunity to step out on faith.

Come to church Sunday and learn of God, his purposes, and the unsearchable riches of his love.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Highlights--

NEW BRILLIANCE FOR THE STUDENT

...With the TENSOR STUDENT LAMP, a rugged, all-metal high-intensity lamp designed specifically for student use. This mite-sized lamp weighs only 2 pounds, takes up less than six square inches on a crowded desk, yet produces a powerful, glare-free light of sun-like brilliance.

Key to its amazing performance is the Tensor-engineered transformer that steps down the voltage of a standard AC socket, steps up light intensity to the equivalent of a 100-watt conventional desk lamp.

The Tensor Student Lamp provides the perfect light for reading, for desk use at home or in the dormitory, for library work, for microscope illumination, for drafting, for dissecting, for specimen study, for model construction. It makes those last-minute cram sessions a lot easier on the eyes, too.

The lamp's flexible gooseneck arm and swivel reflector let you direct the light precisely where you want it. Yet it's practically tip-proof, thanks to its weighted base. It's good looking, too, with its neutral gray wrinkle finish and chrome gooseneck.

So brighten things for the student prince (or princess) in your family by getting him a Tensor Student Lamp. You'll find it encourages good reading and study habits. Warning: if there are more than one student in your household, better get a Tensor Student Lamp for each. People become very attached to their Tensors, don't surrender them easily.

Tensor Student Lamp: $995.

"OPEN MEETINGS" CHANGES DIM — Legislation to restrict secret sessions of government agencies again is in trouble.

Bill received a familiar cold reception in the Senate State Affairs Committee. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas suggested it should be killed on the spot. Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells offered an amendment to force newsmen to disclose their sources of information when questioned in court.

House State Affairs committee offered a more sympathetic ear.

Bill was sent to sub-committees in both panels. House may pass it, but chances in the Senate appear dim indeed. WOMEN WIN, LOSE — Texas ladies have won around and lost one in legislative skirmishes.

FAIRVIEW NEWS

Mrs. Elmer Joiner
Isn't it wonderful that spring has arrived? It happened last Saturday but we were all shut up in the house, huddled around the fire trying to keep from freezing to death and failed to notice it. Any little robins peeking their heads out might have gotten them frozen off, so all the proof that we have that spring is here is that the calendar says so. The weather man says that the weather picture looks about the same this Monday morning that it did last, with more cold weather moving in Tuesday, all sounding very cold again.

Last Wednesday was the annual meeting of the Stamford R. E. A., which ends with a barbecue dinner. Our area was well represented, counting nineteen persons from our community, which goes to prove that the drought is beginning to have effects, we were all hunting a free meal. Seriously, we all did enjoy the delicious meal, which was catered by Underwoods and they always have good food. Out of these present, Fred Rosenbaum was the only lucky one, as he drew a gift certificate for five dollars.

Word was received Friday morning by Mrs. Johnnie Agnew that her aunt, Mrs. D. M. Harris, had passed away the night before, in Commerce, Texas. Funeral services were conducted at the place Sunday afternoon, after which the body was brought to Hamlin.

Cats have highly developed vision and hunt by sight, while dogs rely on their keen sense of smell.

About 220,000 convicts are held in the nation's prisons.

where another service will be held today (Monday) and burial will be beside her husband in the Fairview cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were residents of our community for many years and two of the outstanding members of our church, both serving in almost every place there was for them to serve. If any of us in this community were ever good quilters, it was because of the teachings of Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Harber, who now lives in Abilene. Mrs. Harris loved to do anything that was a help to her community, a good woman has passed on to her reward.

Attendance was fair at church Sunday morning, but am afraid to learn about Sunday night, as so many of us that have been a "ailing" were afraid to get out in the cold air. Seems as if you have ever been sick this winter, every little cold spell brings it back, which begins to get disgusting after weeks and weeks.

The Jack Wright family got to come to church Sunday, as a family, for the first time since soon after Christmas.

The two little boys are improved, being able to be out. Mr. and Mrs. George Wainwright and Jimmy, had lots of company Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Stephens and three children, Odessa, spent Saturday night. Coming Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McCright, Royston, a brother of Mrs. Wainwright, and her father, T. N. McCright, of Roby. A daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peters and children, Stamford, also were on hand. One little grandson, woke up Sunday morning with the mumps.

Connie Drake has had the flu several days, then Sunday his sisters Della and Maude, took it. They were late taking it, but didn't escape after all.

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Leverett, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Tanner, went to Dallas, over the weekend to see Mrs. Tanner's doctor, for a check up. Enroute home they visited with Rev. Harrell, of Kennedale, who was a former pastor of Central Avenue Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Runt McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Joiner and children, were Sunday afternoon visitors of the Elmer Joiners.

Word was received Sunday that Mrs. Lois Hammon had suffered another blood clot,

Use Week End Specials as Guide To Cut Food Costs, Says Specialist

COLLEGE STATION, — Use weekend specials as a guide to cutting food costs, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Prices do fluctuate, and shoppers who take advantage of these slight changes can come out ahead.

A recent study by the Economic Research Service of the USDA showed that the average weekly food bill for a family of four-- which included two teenagers -- was $32.11 over a three-month period. During this time, the food bill varied from month to month. For the first month, the market basket averaged $33.04 a week, and one month later the cost of the identical food was $1.13 less. By the third month, it had dropped another 51 cents.

Lower prices for meat and some vegetables were responsible for most of the differences, the survey showed. Meat, which accounts for one-third of the family's weekly food bill, was the item most frequently on sale.

Among the meats on sale during the survey, chuck roast was first followed by frying chickens, ground beef and luncheon meats. Also listed were vegetables, dairy products, fats and oils, fruit and vegetable juices, fresh and canned fruits, coffee and soft drinks. These items can add up to a well-balanced diet, the specialist says.

this time in her leg. Surgery was performed Sunday afternoon to remove it. She stood the operation well and hopes were for recovery to her good leg, where the clot had formed. No report on her condition has been received since Sunday afternoon.

It has been learned that Mrs. Monroe Potter, of Anson, the former Mrs. Levi Bush, has broken up house keeping and moved to Texas City, to live with her daughter, Mrs. Potter has been ill and was unable to live alone any more. A son, Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Bush also live across the street, in Texas City, which makes it better on Mrs. Potter going to a strange place to live.
